

And so on And so on...

Clients and projects from the last millennium to today.

Beginning with the very first project in the last millennium and continuing until today, the Red Monkey has produced over 6,000 orders: from business cards to stationery packages, event guides, logos, advertising and miscellaneous other promotionals – from start to finish. Overall, the Red Monkey client list ranges from the entrepreneur to corporate executives and marketing professionals (and every category in between!) Even though mechanical artwork has been replaced with digital-ready publications, and the computer has displaced the artist's table and T-square, the Red Monkey has maintained a flexibility to deal with it all and continue providing his clients and other Hawaii business professionals with expert commercial graphics. Pictures of various order samples are shown on the following pages, and also (in no particular order) an accumulated client history. Enjoy.

And so on And so on...

Clients and projects from the last millennium to today.

Beginning with the very first project in the last millennium and continuing until today, the Red Monkey has produced over 6,000 orders: from business cards to stationery packages, event guides, logos, advertising and miscellaneous other promotionals for a variety of clients. In no particular order, here are just some of those many clients and projects.

This project was to design & produce guest room card holders that were given to Japanese visitors to the Sheraton Waikiki Hotel, the Royal Hawaiian Hotel and the Sheraton Moana Surfrider.

From start to finish - services included providing the photography of the featured property, overall design, Japanese language typesetting, graphic production, multi-color printing, die-cut and scoring, gold foil stamping and final fabrication
